

ABSTRACT

The operator console of a switching node has a connection to the Internet for accessing the resources of the switching node. The basis for features which require 5 interaction between the switched connection network (PSTN) and the Internet are provided at a low cost.